

Katrina Teach-in

Rebuilding on a New Foundation of Justice

12 noon-10 p.m.

The Red Morgan Band of New Orleans

Malcolm X Plaza, 12 noon - 2 p.m. (weather permitting)

12-4 p.m. SFSU Faculty Panels

Rebuilding for Whom? Rebuilding for What?

12:10-1:00 The Geography of the Gulf Coast and New Orleans: The Natural Determinants of Disaster.

1:10-2:00 Katrina: The People and the Place.

2:10-3:00 *Rebuilding: The Politics of Disaster:
Who Will Benefit?*

3:10-4:00 Natural Disaster Planning: Lessons to be Learned; Central America.

4:30-5:00 Cajun Dinner and Music
Suggested contribution donated to Katrina

Tuesday,
November 15, 2005

Jack Adams Hall, SFSU Student Union,
19th Avenue and Holloway

5-7 p.m.,
Student/Faculty Dialogue

New Orleans "Second Lines," the First Line of Community Defense

Judith Maxwell, Tulane University, "Social Networks: the real safety net"

Tomas Aragon, SF Dept. of Public Health, "Social Justice and the differential impact of disaster"

Moderator: Michael Krasny, host of Forum,
KQED-FM

7-10 p.m.

Rebuilding: What We Are Doing; What You Can Do

Keynote Speakers

Malik Rahim, Common Grounds Collective,
New Orleans

Curtis Muhammed, Community-Labor
Alliance, Baton Rouge

Representative Office of Rep. Barbara Lee

Solidarity pledges from SFSU Associate Vice President Enrique Riveros-Schafer, Office of Mayor Gavin Newsom

More info 415-338-1413; teach-in schedule at <http://www.sfsu.edu/~urbins/katrina/>

Admission is free. Your tax-deductible contribution to Community Futures Foundation will be divided between the speakers' projects.

The Katrina Teach-In is organized by Health Education Department, College of Health and Human Services, PHOGS, HEAL, HESA and Community Health Works, and the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences.

Special thanks to our financial contributors: Office of the President, SFSU, Office of the Vice President Admin. & Finance, Office of the Vice President Academic Affairs, College of Creative Arts, College of Education, College of Ethnic Studies, College of Humanities, College of Science and Engineering, Graduate Programs in Physical Therapy, School of Social Work, Public Research Institute, Cesar Chavez Institute, Marian Wright Edelman Institute, San Francisco Urban Institute, and to the AV/Instructional Television Center, Associated Students Program Services, and other campus units for their assistance.