

180,000 American troops are in Iraq or Afghanistan, dodging bullets and bombs. Thousands more are away from their families, on duty abroad. All of them are

Not at Home for the Holidays

3,900 American families have lost loved ones in Iraq. Over 28,000 have welcomed home wounded relatives, some of whom have even been asked to repay their sign-up bonuses and all of whom will be scarred for life. A CBS investigation revealed that

120 veterans commit suicide every week

2007 is the deadliest year yet for U.S. troops in Iraq: 885 dead so far, and 5,688 wounded. And don't forget the hundreds of thousands of Iraqi (and Afghani) dead, nor the four million refugees.

The World Needs PEACE

Each death, each wound, each trauma is a personal tragedy. And yet our government plans more. Iraqi government sources confirm that the U.S. plans to keep 50,000 troops permanently in their country. Neither their parliament nor our Congress has approved this, but the bases are already being built. The U.S. has 823 foreign military bases worldwide; it's time to start closing them.

There is still talk of bombing Iran, even though it does not have a nuclear weapons program. Don't attack Iran!

Australia, Britain and Poland (our only fighting allies) are planning to cease combat in Iraq and to withdraw their troops. So should we. Iraqis and Americans agree: It's time to end this war.

Bring The Troops Home NOW!

Bring The Troops Home NOW!

What You Can Do

Learn what is really going on, both in the rest of the world and here in the U.S. Tell your friends, and tell Congress not to fund the war. Find out about the work of Activist Groups such as

United for Peace and Justice (UFPJ) — unitedforpeace.org
Iraq Veterans Against the War — ivaw.org
Code Pink — codepink4peace.org
After Downing Street — afterdowningstreet.org &
DontAttackIran.org

Several websites collect and reprint important articles, for instance:

truthout.org antiwar.com truthdig.com

There is lots of news on the web, but always check the sources. Good information can also be found (often buried) in the New York Times and other major newspapers — read them carefully and critically, too.

Join us, every Friday, 5–6 P.M., at the weekly Vigils for Peace: in Santa Cruz, at the Town Clock and at Pacific & Cooper, and in Watsonville on Main Street, by the Plaza. Please become part of the peace community.

Most local actions are announced on the Santa Cruz Progressive Email List (SCPEL) — Google SCPEL for subscription information. Check indybay.org/santacruz for local news and event listings.

Write, phone, email, send letters to the local papers — be creative!
