

FREE!

POLICING AND REPRESSION

Featuring

Kristian
Williams

IN AMERICA

Tuesday
December 13th
Food @ 6pm
Starts 7pm
421 Miner St
Stockton CA

Author of 'Our Enemies in Blue,' Kristian Williams argues that policing in America has more to do with enforcing race and class inequalities than stopping crime or keeping people safe. An organizer with Portland Copwatch, Williams argues that those that organize against police brutality must harbor no illusions about the role of police within our society. The police grew out of slave catchers, border patrols, and strike breakers and that role remains the same today - only more powerful and with better weapons. Williams offers an analysis of the police and also an insight on how to organize and confront police violence - head on.