Chairman of the African People’s Socialist Party • Leader of the Uhuru Movement

FIGHTER FOR AFRICAN LIBERATION

“You have the emergence in human society of this thing called the State. What is the State? The State is organized bureaucracy. It is the police department. It is the army, the navy. It is the prison system, the courts...The reality is the police and the State become necessary in human society only at that juncture where there is a split between those who have and those who ain’t got.”

OMALI YESHITELA SPEAKS!

Omali Yeshitela has dedicated his life to the struggle for liberation for Africa and African people everywhere. Yeshitela's visionary leadership spans the generations from the Black Power Movement of the 1960s to the movement for one united Africa in the 21st Century. He is Chairman of the African People's Socialist Party and leads the International Uhuru Movement for African freedom.

FROM THE '60S BLACK POWER MOVEMENT TO TODAY!

In 1966, Omali Yeshitela, then known as Joseph Waller, boldly ripped down a racist mural that had hung for years in the St. Petersburg, Florida, City Hall. For this he spent two years in prison. In 1968, Yeshitela formed the Junta of Militant Organizations (JOMO), which led the struggle for Black Power throughout the South.

THE BURNING SPEAR

The Burning Spear newspaper, founded by Omali Yeshitela, has continuously published since 1968. Known as the "Voice of the International African Revolution."

REPARATIONS TRIBUNALS

In 1982 Omali Yeshitela headed up the first World Tribunal on Reparations for African people, held in Brooklyn, NY. After two days of testimony, the panel of international judges found the U.S. guilty, owing $4.1 trillion in reparations. In November, 2003, the 12th session of the World Tribunal on Reparations was held in Philadelphia, PA.

The African People's Socialist Party holds its annual world conference on the African Socialist International every July in London, England. With participants from many African countries, as well as from the Caribbean, Europe and North and South America, the ASI works to liberate Africa under one united government.

ANTI WAR/PRO LIBERATION

In 2001, Omali Yeshitela called together the Florida Alliance for Peace and Social Justice, holding some of the largest rallies in the Southeast against the U.S. attacks on Afghanistan and Iraq. The Florida Alliance stands in solidarity with victories of oppressed peoples struggling for national liberation.

THE AFRICAN PEOPLE'S SOCIALIST PARTY

In 1972, Omali Yeshitela formed the African People's Socialist Party which aims to liberate and unite Africa and African people under the leadership of African workers.

THE BATTLE OF ST. PETERSBURG

In 1996, St. Petersburg, Florida, police murdered an 18 year-old African youth two blocks from the Uhuru House world headquarters of the African People's Socialist Party. Rebellions followed. Omali Yeshitela led the African community in demanding economic and social justice, not more police presence, forcing the city to concede. In 2001, through popular support, Yeshitela ran for mayor, strategically putting African community needs on the city's political agenda. He won every African precinct.
