DOS AMERICAS

THE RECONSTRUCTION OF NEW ORLEANS

a new film by UPHEAVAL PRODUCTIONS

Post-Katrina reconstruction is still in progress throughout the Gulf Coast, with much of the City of New Orleans still in ruins. This documentary focuses on those rebuilding this city through interviews with some of the estimated 100,000 Latino migrant laborers who have converged in this area over the past three years. Despite terrible working conditions, massive fraud, a housing crisis, severe harassment by law enforcement, and very limited resources, New Orleans' Latino community has mushroomed since the storm and is establishing an infrastructure proportional to its size.

Take a look at how this community is organizing to defend itself against numerous injustices and the attempts to bridge the gap between themselves as new residents and the pre-Katrina population, all within extremely unique and tragic context of post-Katrina New Orleans.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT

One year after Katrina hit the Gulf Coast, survivors sit down and talk of their experiences of fighting for survival in the days following the disaster and how their lives have progressed since returning to New Orleans. Providing accounts of living in a city whose populace has largely been forgotten, survivors give a stinging account of a slow reconstruction process that is ignoring the human cost of rebuilding.
