

Live From Death Row

Featuring:

Kevin Cooper, via telephone from San Quentin's Death Row

Jack Bryson, father of brothers detained on BART platform with Oscar Grant

Veronica Luna, Campaign to End the Death Penalty

Tuesday, April 14th
7:00 pm

San Jose State University
Costanoan Room, Student Union
One Washington Square, San Jose

Co-sponsored by Cesar Chavez Community Action Center and California Nursing Student's Association

call 510-589-6820 or email california@nodeathpenalty.org for more information.

This event is part of a national speaking tour sponsored by the Campaign to End the Death Penalty

Death sentences dehumanize the condemned, justifying the state sponsored murder of the poor, the innocent and people of color. Death rows isolate those sentenced to die, denying them human contact and hope for justice. In our "Live From Death Row" tour, the voices of death row prisoners will reach from behind the walls to share their stories of loss, injustice, struggle, and hope for an end to the death penalty. At a time when the national chorus against the death penalty continues to grow, these voices are critical for the movement on the outside.

"These are America's condemned, who bear a stigma far worse than 'prisoner.' These are America's death row residents: men and women who walk the razor's edge between half-life and certain death."

—
Mumia Abu-Jamal,
Live From Death Row