The Crisis In The SEIU And The Future of Labor

With video of presentation By labor journalist *Steve Early

The crisis in the labor movement is growing at the same time that working people face the sharpest attacks since the 1930's. The SEIU is now in a war with the new union NUHW formerly the UHW and the SEIU International is also actively engaged in a raid against Unite-Here around the country including in California. This forum will look at why this crisis is happening and what it means to SEIU members and working people who want and need strong unions. These struggles are also tied to the relationship of our unions to the Democratic party and this long time alliance.

The growing corruption crisis within the SEIU from Los Angeles to Michigan and in the Bay Area along with the increasing budget cuts and lay-offs of tens of thousands of SEIU members throughout California have now come together to bring the greatest crisis that one of the largest unions in the United States has ever faced. How this crisis will affect the future of SEIU members and organized labor is a critical question.
