FRESNO COMMUNITY SAYS ‘NO!!’ TO HATE AND WAR THROUGH ART AND MUSIC

WHAT: In reaction to the recent hate crimes against low income people and people of color from all backgrounds and beliefs, the FRESNO BROWN BERETS and other community members will combat this peacefully through education, unity, culture and art. This is the third of many mural projects planned and organized by the FRESNO BROWN BERETS this year. Additionally, this will commemorate the 40th anniversary of the ‘Chicana/o Moratorium’, the largest anti-war rally organized and attended by low-income people and people of color that took place August 29, 1970.

There will be FREE FOOD, SOCIAL SERVICE INFORMATION, and MUSIC. IT IS COMPLETELY FREE TO THE PUBLIC AND ALL ‘ARTISTS’ ON ALL LEVELS ARE WELCOME as well as COMMUNITY BENEFIT ORGANIZATIONS THAT WOULD LIKE TO OUTREACH TO THE COMMUNITY.

WHY: In response to the violence with in and against low income communities and communities of color, the FRESNO BROWN BERETS seek to address this issue not in a defensive or negative way but in a positive way that will bring people together to dialogue, network, and build UNITY. Through a community mural project one is able to think critically, creatively and collectively in an environment that is both positive and inclusive. This project was made possible in part by the Fresno Center for Nonviolence, a community group and resource that seeks to bring people from all creeds and backgrounds together to work against violence on all levels and for all people. In this spirit, the FRESNO BROWN BERETS strive to be proactive and spark a trend that will open up the doors for others to join in these efforts.

WHERE: Dance Empowerment Studios Located on Tulare and E Street in CHINA TOWN Fresno CA.

WHO: The Fresno Brown Berets is a militant, grassroots, community organization formed solely for the service, education, protection, and EMPOWERMENT of communities that have historically been and systemically continue to be pushed to the margins of the political, social, and economical process. We organize and empower with any person or group to not only improve ones conditions, but to raise ones level of consciousness towards a common goal of JUSTICE on all levels and for all people.
