

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library

Studies in Inequality and Social Justice

Edited by Kira Hall

Ved Prakash Vatuk, whom the book honors, will introduce two chapters on the immigrant experience.

Terror at Dong Rek

James M. Freeman talks about his chapter (co-authored with Nguyen Dinh Huu) on Vietnamese asylum seekers who languished for years at a refugee camp on the border of Thailand. He is Professor Emeritus of Anthropology at San José State University.

Undocumented Immigrants in the United States: From Impoverishment to May Day Resurgence

Sharat G. Lin discusses his chapter on the largest political demonstration in San José's history. He is president of the San José Peace & Justice Center.

Thursday, March 3, 2011 7:00 pm

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library
Room 225/229 – 2nd Floor
150 E. San Fernando St., San José

Culture & Conflict
Forum

For information: 408-808-2397 <http://www.sjlibrary.org>
408-297-2299 <http://www.sanjosepeace.org>
<http://svcgii.sjsu.edu>

Co-sponsors: SJSU Library, San José Public Library, César Chávez Community Action Center, San José Peace & Justice Center, Culture & Conflict Forum, Silicon Valley Center for Global Innovation & Immigration