

DON'T LOOK NOW...

But your basic rights just got BUSTED.

On New Year's Eve 2011, President Obama signed the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), although it contains provisions that undermine basic civil liberties for all Americans.

Through this law,

- The government can label you a terrorist, arrest you without charges, and hold you without trial—merely on suspicion of terrorism.
- The armed forces can detain you indefinitely, whether or not you are a US citizen.
- You can be denied the right to a lawyer and due process.
- You can be sent away to a foreign country, where you may be imprisoned and/or tortured with no legal recourse.

The NDAA repeals rights that we have had since the Magna Carta in 1215—basic aspects of the US Bill of Rights.

The San Francisco 99% Coalition is working with national organizations like the American Civil Liberties Union, Center for Constitutional Rights and Bill of Rights Defense Committee to repeal this unjust and dangerous law.
