

the Mexico Solidarity Network presents:

Sowing Struggle: Urban and rural social movements in Tlaxcala, Mexico

with Luz Rivera Martínez

lead organizer with Consejo Nacional Urbano Campesino (CNUC)

As co-founder and lead organizer of CNUC, Luz has worked tirelessly over 20 years to protect peasants' rights and build inspiring, community-based autonomous projects. Luz and CNUC also accompany the Apizaco merchant's union, a bus-drivers' cooperative, and the National Assembly of Braceros in their struggles against corrupt governance, police repression, and neoliberalism. Her talk will have important lessons for anyone interested in women's, peasant, and labor movements.

when: Monday, Oct. 1 at 1pm

where: Room 304

---

The presentation will be in Spanish with English translation provided by a MSN representative. Attendance is open and free of charge.

---

mexicosolidarity.org