

2nd Anniversary of The Fukushima Meltdown

Nuclear Whistleblowers, Health and Safety, Workers and Our Communities

Fukushima Daiichi Nuclear Power plant

The growing dangers and systemic health and safety problems at nuclear plants in the US, Japan and around the world are a threat to the workers and communities. This national conference in San Francisco will focus on the issue of health and safety at nuclear plants, and the systemic retaliation against nuclear plant whistleblowers. If the 1% stops whistleblowers from reporting on the dangers of nuclear plants, it's only a matter of time till we'll be having Fukushima in California.

It will also look at the failure of government agencies to do proper oversight of the retaliation of whistleblowers at these nuclear plants and how this failure to protect these health and safety whistleblowers needs to be addressed. It will also look at how the communities have been affected including Fukushima and California
