

Cops or Counselors: The Crisis in Berkeley's Mental Health System

Join us for a public examination of Berkeley's Emergency Mental Health Services and whether Police should even be involved as responders.

Tasers, spit hoods, pepper spray, hog-tie and “the Wrap”: Is this what Berkeley means by the term “Mental Health Services” ? Numerous incidents in Berkeley show that the “compassionate care” we thought was being given by mental health care professionals has deteriorated into the systematic use of brute force against those in crisis.
