PARKING

SCU•Presents venues, including the Louis B. Mayer Theatre, the Fess Parker Studio Theatre and the Music Recital Hall, at Santa Clara University are conveniently located on Santa Clara University's campus, at the corner of Franklin and Lafayette streets.

Parking is now available in the new North Parking Structure, located at Franklin and Alviso Street. The structure is available to B and E permit holders, Visitors and 'Pay and Display' permit users. The daily rate at the pay station is $7, $6 after 5PM, and is enforced Monday-Friday from 6AM to 8PM.

Make note of your license plate number; you will need to enter it to purchase the parking permit.

Street parking is also available along Lafayette Street, Franklin Street, and other neighboring streets. Please be aware of time limits on parking. (Street parking limits do not apply after 6 pm on weekdays or on the weekends.)

Visitors may also park in the Main Parking Garage. Enter campus via the main entrance on Palm Drive, stop at the Visitor Kiosk for permit, then turn left into the structure.

Finding the Mayer Theatre on Campus: The Louis B. Mayer Theatre is located in the northwest corner of the Mission Gardens, behind the Mission Church. It is about a five-minute walk from the either Parking Structure. See the Campus Map detail here.

Finding the Recital Hall on Campus: The Music Recital Hall is located in the Music and Dance Facility (MDF 114). It is located at the corner of Franklin and Lafayette Streets, 952 Franklin. See the Campus Map detail here.

The full campus map is available at scu.edu/map.

NOTE: Palm Drive is now closed at the stop sign for vehicle traffic. Public parking is no longer available on campus except in either parking structure.

Beginning July 1, 2015, SCU is a smoke-free campus. No tobacco products, including electronic cigarettes and vapor devices, are permitted on campus.
