

The Institute for the Critical Study of Society at the Niebyl-Proctor Marxist Library

Sunday Morning at the Marxist Library

COUP IN TURKEY

A mysterious but an expected coup attempt took place in Turkey on a Friday evening in Turkey. The revolution was televised. The important thing everybody who had experienced numerous coups in Turkey was the total stupidity of the whole thing. Did this theatrical coup strengthen Erdogan, or is this the beginning of the end? What forces clashed, what international issues, what class contradictions, what historical developments brought about a need for this fake, show uprising? Is the next step of imperialism to divide Turkey now that Iraq, Libya and Syria are de facto divided? How does this coup play into the "Greater Middle East Project (The Project for a New Middle East) drawn by the US and Israel? Is this coup the final nail in the Kemalist ideology's coffin? Journalist Mehmet Bayram will address some of these questions and many more on the structure of the state, class struggle and the rapid movement of Turkey into Open Fascism.

Sun, Aug 14, 2016 - 10:30am to 12:30pm
6501 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland (just North of Alcatraz Ave.)

Seating is limited, so plan to come early. We start promptly.
FREE - but hat will be passed for donations to NPML

About Sunday Morning at the Marxist Library

A weekly discussion series inspired by our respect for the work of Karl Marx and our belief that his work will remain as important for the class struggles of the future as they have been for the past.

For info or to subscribe to our weekly announcements,
Call Gene Ruyle at 510-332-3865 or email: cuyleruyle@mac.com
For our full schedule, go to icssmarx.org