The second “Don't Punish Pain Nationwide Rally” will be held nationwide, on September 18, 2018 at 12 p.m.

While attempting to rein in the abuse and misuse of illegal/illicit drugs, the federal government has implemented policy that has caused great harm to Americans in genuine need of legitimately prescribed FDA-approved pain medications.

“The CDC Guidelines for Prescribing Opioids for Chronic Pain were released in 2016. These guidelines were meant to ONLY provide recommendations for primary care clinicians who prescribe opioids for chronic pain outside of active cancer treatment, palliative care, and end-of-life care.”

After the release of the CDC Guidelines for Prescribing Opioids for Chronic Pain, millions of chronic pain patients went to follow-up appointments and discovered their provider would no longer treat chronic pain due to the CDC Guidelines.

These patients were compliant patients, who were not abusing these FDA-approved prescription medications and always used these medications exactly as prescribed. These health care providers had been prescribing FDA-approved opioids as just one part of an overall integrative treatment plan.

The vast majority of chronically ill and chronic pain patients have developed good patient/provider relationships with their doctors and the government has “critically fractured” these patient/provider relationships.

Patients who had been treated appropriately and professionally by the same health care provider for years, are now finding it difficult to obtain the pain relief they need and were receiving from these same health care providers. Why? Because the Federal government now says that responsible and legitimate health care providers are the cause for the illicit opioid epidemic, just one of the many myths that has been shared over and over in the media by the CDC, FDA and DEA.

These same health care providers continue to feel forced by the government to remove legitimate patients off of these much-needed medications out of fear of losing their medical licenses and/or fear of jail time from the DEA.

Millions of chronic illness patients found that they were simply dropped from these medications; no safe weaning and the medications were abruptly stopped.

This has left millions who suffer from chronic illnesses, such as, Crohn's Disease, Colitis, Sickle Cell, Fibromyalgia, Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome, Chiari Malformation, Arachnoiditis, Rheumatoid Arthritis, Degenerative Disc Disease, Degenerative Joint Disease, Cancer, and thousands of other painful illnesses, “homeless” in the medical community.

On July 29, 2011, the Institute of Medicine submitted to Congress the first comprehensive report on the “state of pain” in the United States called “Relieving Pain in America: A Blueprint for Transforming Prevention, Treatment, and Research.” This report sent a clear message to policy makers and the American public “that pain is a major a public health problem that needs to be addressed.” According to the report, more than 100 million Americans suffer with chronic pain, costing at least $560-$635 billion annually.

Many in the chronically ill community are disabled from the pain they endure every second, every minute, every hour and every day of their lives. The chronically ill have been expunged from medical care.

Veterans, who have fought for our country, were told and continue to be told that they would no longer receive opioid pain medications for traumatic battlefield injuries and are left to suffer.

Media hype and false information has the public confused about the difference in legitimately prescribed opioid pain medications and the illicit illegal street drugs, such as illicit fentanyl. This distinction needs to be made and must be made --- STOP the fake news stories that legitimate healthcare providers and legitimate chronically ill patients are responsible for the illegal and illicit opioid epidemic!

Please join us in at our “Don’t Punish Pain Rally” for the chronically ill community.

About the Don’t Punish Pain Rally:

Our Mission is to energize the diverse community of people affected by pain by providing a rally for their voices to be heard. We want to help the public understand the difference between legally prescribed opioid medications and illegal illicit street drugs.

We need our elected officials to stand up for the 100 million Americans who live with a chronic illness. The Don’t Punish Pain Organization does not participate in fundraising. Various speakers will attend.
