

A Progressive US Trade Policy

—What would it look like?

The current “free trade” agenda allows corporations to freely cross borders to exploit workers as it pollutes the earth. Corporate-dominated “free trade” also jeopardizes our democratic rights by creating an enforceable global corporate legal structure that aggressively undermines local, state and national laws.

We cannot allow this to happen to our democracy, our labor rights, and our environment!

Come to this forum to hear proponents of “fair trade,” which prioritizes worker rights and environmental protection without undermining our democratic rights. Speakers from the California Trade Justice Coalition and the United Steel Workers will give us an update on current US trade issues and flash points like the upcoming Congressional review of Trump’s NAFTA renegotiation.

SPEAKERS:

WILL WILTSCHKO, Director, California Trade Justice Coalition

CATHERINE HOUSTON, United Steel Workers Rapid Response and Women of Steel Coordinator

RAND WROBEL, a founder and volunteer CIO of 350 Bay Area, responsible for the organization’s media and rapid response

With the Green New Deal initiated by recently elected progressive members of Congress, we are opening the political space to establish “fair trade” policies and an environmentally oriented economy.

Please join us to learn what it’s about—and how you can get involved!

THURSDAY., MARCH 28 • 7–9 pm
Park Branch Community Room, SF Public Library
1833 Page St., San Francisco

Wheelchair accessible • Co-sponsored by San Francisco Progressive Democrats of America (www.facebook.com/PDASanFrancisco/) and PDA-CA, SF Chapter

A Progressive US Trade Policy

—What would it look like?

The current “free trade” agenda allows corporations to freely cross borders to exploit workers as it pollutes the earth. Corporate-dominated “free trade” also jeopardizes our democratic rights by creating an enforceable global corporate legal structure that aggressively undermines local, state and national laws.

We cannot allow this to happen to our democracy, our labor rights, and our environment!

Come to this forum to hear proponents of “fair trade,” which prioritizes worker rights and environmental protection without undermining our democratic rights. Speakers from the California Trade Justice Coalition and the United Steel Workers will give us an update on current US trade issues and flash points like the upcoming Congressional review of Trump’s NAFTA renegotiation.

SPEAKERS:

WILL WILTSCHKO, Director, California Trade Justice Coalition

CATHERINE HOUSTON, United Steel Workers Rapid Response and Women of Steel Coordinator

RAND WROBEL, a founder and volunteer CIO of 350 Bay Area, responsible for the organization’s media and rapid response

With the Green New Deal initiated by recently elected progressive members of Congress, we are opening the political space to establish “fair trade” policies and an environmentally oriented economy.

Please join us to learn what it’s about—and how you can get involved!

THURSDAY., MARCH 28 • 7–9 pm
Park Branch Community Room, SF Public Library
1833 Page St., San Francisco

Wheelchair accessible • Co-sponsored by San Francisco Progressive Democrats of America (www.facebook.com/PDASanFrancisco/) and PDA-CA, SF Chapter