

DISABILITY, AGING, AND POWER: A Community Forum

How to Survive PG&E Power Shutoffs, Help Others Survive, and Envision an Electricity Grid That Works for Us and the Planet

Are you mad as hell about the PG&E shutoffs? Did you, or someone you know, endure a nightmare scenario, trying to navigate disability-or-age-related power needs during a shutoff? Does the thought of more shutoffs fill you with dread? Rage? Both?

Come to a forum to brainstorm a way forward, build a network of interdependence, and hear frontline activists and experts discuss possible solutions.

Friday, January 17, 3-5 PM
ED ROBERTS CAMPUS
3075 Adeline St, Berkeley (at Ashby BART)

ASL & CART (captioning) provided light refreshments • wheelchair accessible • please refrain from wearing scented products

Presented by: Electricity = Life

Thanks to our sponsors and financial supporters: World Institute on Disability (WID), Service Employees International Union Local 2015 (SEIU) and The Utility Reform Network (TURN)

