

The New Cold War

From globalization and the G20, the emergence of China as a technological powerhouse and Russia as the latest evil has led to decoupling, a global food and fuel crisis, and a drift into a new cold war. Why is this happening now? How can we achieve world peace and meet human needs?

Dr. Sharat G. Lin writes and lectures on global political economy, labor migration, and public health. He is with Human Agenda and the Initiative for Equality.
